

Department of Physiology and
Pharmacology
Schulich School of Medicine &
Dentistry
Western University

Initial research by Pier Giuseppe Pelicci's research group demonstrated that the p66Shc adaptor protein controlled oxidative stress response and life span in mammals (Migliaccio et al.,

