

English 9002A Advanced Research Methods

Fall 2017 Half Course

Location: SH 3315 (Somerville House)

Time: Mondays 4:30-6:30pm

Instructor of Record

Professor Donna Palmateer Penn dpenn@uwo.ca

Arts & Humanities Building Room 2G19A

Office Hours: tbd

Extension: 85825, but e-mail is my preferred mode of contact outside of class time

dpenn@uwo.ca

Course Description:

This course introduces students to techniques, methods, and cultures of research in literary and cultural studies, and assists in developing their skills, knowledge, and understanding of advanced research methods. This course is required for all M.A. students and for Ph.D. students who have not already taken a comparable course during their MA studies.

The course may include:

- ° readings on research methods in literary and cultural studies
- ° readings on the archives of literary and cultural studies, including studies in textual editing, the history of the book, and the digital humanities
- ° readings on humanities research in the corporatized university
- ° reflection on our own methods, assumptions, and positioning within English and cultural studies
- ° library-

On Scholastic Offences:

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site: