Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, Western University
London Health Sciences Centre
St. Joseph's Health Care London

The Department of Psychiatry, Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, is inviting applications for a full-time clinical academic faculty within the Division of General Adult Psychiatry, from physicians with expertise in neurodevelopmental disorders, and particularly dual diagnosis (concurrent severe mental illness with severe developmental delay). The Department seeks colleagues who are interested in being part of a dynamic team and committed to providing evidence-informed, compassionate clinical care.

We are seeking a colleague to join the Dual Diagnosis Program within St. Joseph's Mental Health Care program. The Dual Diagnosis Program covers Southwestern Ontario, providing consultation, treatment recommendations, and follow-up. includes a 12-bed inpatient unit at our Parkwood Institute Mental Health Building site. The successful candidate will bring knowledge and experience providing patient care to dual diagnosis populations. They will also have interest and expertise in knowledge translation in developmental disabilities through clinical and community professional education, and facilitating scholarly research. The successful candidate will also have experience and/or interest in clinical program development, continuous quality improvement, and collaboration with community/system partners.

The successful candidate will serve as a role model and supervisor for our undergraduate medical students, psychiatry residents, and fellows. The candidate must have a strong academic background and a keen interest in academic medicine, demonstrated scholarly productivity and the ability to collaborate effectively with all members of the health care team and office administration staff. Consideration of applicants will include an assessment of previous performance in teaching, research, health care leadership, qualifications (including subspecialty and enhanced training), experience and interpersonal skills. Candidates who have demonstrated ability in the identified areas of opportunity will be given priority. Successful candidates seeking research careers must have a record of productivity, sustained research funding and publications. In addition, the candidate should show eagerness to serve as a research mentor for trainees.

The Department of Psychiatry is organized around four academic divisions including General Adult Psychiatry, Geriatric Psychiatry, Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, and Forensic Psychiatry. The Department also has internationally recognized strengths in psychosis, neuroimaging, mood and anxiety disorders, PTSD, and developmental disabilities.

The Department of Psychiatry places great importance on collegiality and professionalism. Our faculty are
