Students will be evaluated by their supervisor with respect to their performance in the research project/laboratory. This will include not only technical skills, but also their familiarity with the literature, and their contribution to the experimental design, analysis, and interpretation of the data. This evaluation will be done at the end of each of the fall and winter terms. An abstract and a final research paper will be evaluated by the immediate faculty supervisor and one other faculty member. Feedback will be given to students as soon as possible after presentations. Student participation in the discussion sessions, and in the question period after each student presentation is expected and required. All faculty will participate in the evaluation of student presentations. The presentations will be done with all students and faculty in attendance (dates and times will be arranged after consultation with students and faculty).

Details of the (suggested) evaluation are outlined below (subject to change each year):
