G: Inclusivity

I: Engagement

Students are expected to demonstrate professional responsibility through eegalgeement with, and participation in, all course learning activities. Much of the learning that takes place is a result of preparation and engagement with the material, as well as active dialogue with 6 (r)(e)-2 (l)-2 (e)-4gagen/rnal

L: Academic Integrity Policy/Plagiarism

Student work is expected to be original; assignments and online postings should be written in your own words. An idea or a passage from another author must be acknowledgeing quotation marks, where appropriate, and APAET. referencing. Failure to do so is unethical and is plagiarism.

Student work is expected to be original. Plagiarism is a serious academic offence and could lead to expulsion from the nursing program. You are plagiarizing if you insert a phrase, sentence or paragraph taken directly from another author without acknowledging the work to belong to them. Similarly, you are plagiarizing if you paraphrase or summarize another author's ideas without acknowledging that the ideas belong to someone else. You are plagifarizing when you reuse all or part of an assignment that yop reviously submitted Students can not present their credited work as new scholarship. You may be asked to submit your work, at the discretion of the course instructor, to turnitin.com to verify originality our responsible for acting on the report generated

M: Review of Graded Assignments

After a graded assignment is returned, a student's first step is to take time to reflect on the assignment description in the syllabus, on the feedback provided by the original marker within the assignment, and on the marking rubric. If a student cannot understand the meaning or intent behind the feedback received, they may submit a written request to the original marker for an informal consulta on the marker's feedback, to support the assignment review. An assignment will not be reviewed simply because a student is unhappy with the grade received, or they believe the mark does not reflect the effort they put into completing the assignment.

Students who need assistance with their writing skills should contact pus resources for support: http://writing.uwo.ca/

If, after the assignment review, a student still believes they have grounds with supporting documentation that their grade was unfairly calculated, they may request a formal appeal of the grade in accordance with the policy for academic appeals (//www.uwo.ca/ombud)s/

N: Course correspondence

You are expected to check the course site regularly for mass ages/announcements posted by the course professor and/or Teaching Assistan R(e) are reference the course communication strategy discussed above.

O. Social Media

It is a breach of privacy and confidentiality, and highly unprofessional, to post information on any social media platform about:

- x Peers
- x Class activities/discussion
- x Clients
- x Agencies
- x Laboratories
- x Simulations
- x Communications with professors

Students will be reported to the Associate Director (Western) or Associate Dean (Fanshawe). Such behaviour may compromise a student's standing in the program.
