One can hardly look at the news on any given day without being reminded that we are facing numerous environmental challenges. Most of them are linked to human activities such as pollution of all kinds, mining, deforestation, industrial size fisheries, and it is incre1 Tw 0.8 76.35 0 Td(,)Tj(,)Tj01 leaders and participants. Students will thus learn to prepare structured discussions and bring their classmates to identify relevant topics and constructively discuss issues arising from the readings. Students are expected to read the relevant material ahead of time so that these activities can go beyond a mere exchange of opinions. This is a great exercise for improving understanding, listening, and communicative skills.
